News

Welcome to our Magazine for this quarter.

We are slightly living a different kind of life at the moment which is very surreal, I'm teaching my two children from home, my husband has been furloughed and the dog is having a very different kind of home life.

The biggest change for me is my "work life" as Church has been closed which means my day has changed dramatically. But I'm still doing some bits checking in on church making sure we haven't any water leaks or damage to the building but church has become online for me. I'm delivering a morning prayer on our facebook page daily and updating the news on a Saturday morning. In between this I am joining other churches across Derbyshire and watching Songs of Praise. It's got its positives and negatives; positives that I'm getting a varied mix of worship and God's word from other perspectives but negatively I'm missing my church family and the activities we do together.

But over all we are well and building our family to be stronger, we are going out for our hourly walk on a daily basis and taking in the many arrays of God's creations on our own doorsteps, talking to the neighbours more and spending good quality time together which gets lost in the day to day tasks we undertake in a normal day. I really hope once we establish a 'normal day' again that it will not be the norm of before, we need to keep what we have built over the last six weeks and build upon it and strengthen this great ministry which has seen so many people see our sermons, worship and prayers online continue but also to enable our church to welcome these people through our doors in a joyful way. God is with us and will rise us back from the ashes.

Make yourself a cuppa and relax with a biscuit or two whilst reading and enjoying the array of puzzles to keep you busy whilst we are finding additional time on our hands.! Lisa Walsh

POEM - Reflection in Corona Times

'And the people stayed at home
And read books and listened and exercised
And made art and played games
And learned new ways of 'being' and were still
And listened more deeply
Some meditated, some prayed, some danced
Some met their shadows
And the people began to think differently
And the people healed
In the absence of people living in ignorant, dangerous,
Mindless and heartless ways, the earth began to heal
And when the danger passed
And the people joined together again
They grieved their losses
And made new choices and dreamed new images
And created new ways to live
And heal the earth fully
As they have been healed

Artists corner

An award-winning songwriter who helped found the Youth Movement Soul Survivor in the 1990's, Matt Redman has written many popular worship songs including "The Heart of Worship", and "I Will Offer Up My Life" and "10,000 Reasons" in collaboration with Jonas Myrin.

Although some songs take months to write, this one came to him in the early hours of a morning in 2012, after a long day composing in a chapel in the small village where he lives. "I wanted to go home, but he recalls Jonas saying, 'I've got this one other little thing, a tiny bit of melody that I think could be something special' and "immediately a song started pouring out of us."

The album's producer insisted on including it on the track-list, despite Mr Redman's reservations of it sounding 'unfinished' and it went on to win not one, but two Grammy Awards. However, it was the email he received the following morning that he cherished more. In it, a woman described how her uncle had found faith shortly before his death, he requested that the song be played in his final moments.

Matt Redman felt it as "God's kindness to re-orientate me and say 'last night was cool, but this is the reason you write songs.'"

Amongst Matt Redman's favourite hymn writers namely Horatio Spafford who wrote "It Is Well with My Soul" reportedly written at sea as he made the same journey that had resulted in the drowning of his four daughters.

"How did you find your way to a place of praise? How did you not just shut down?"

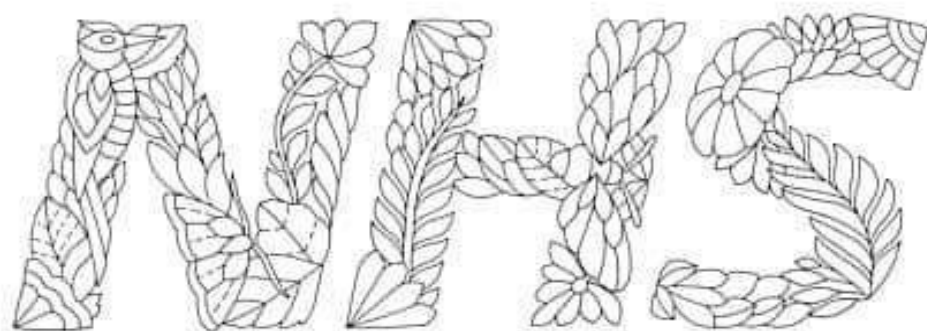

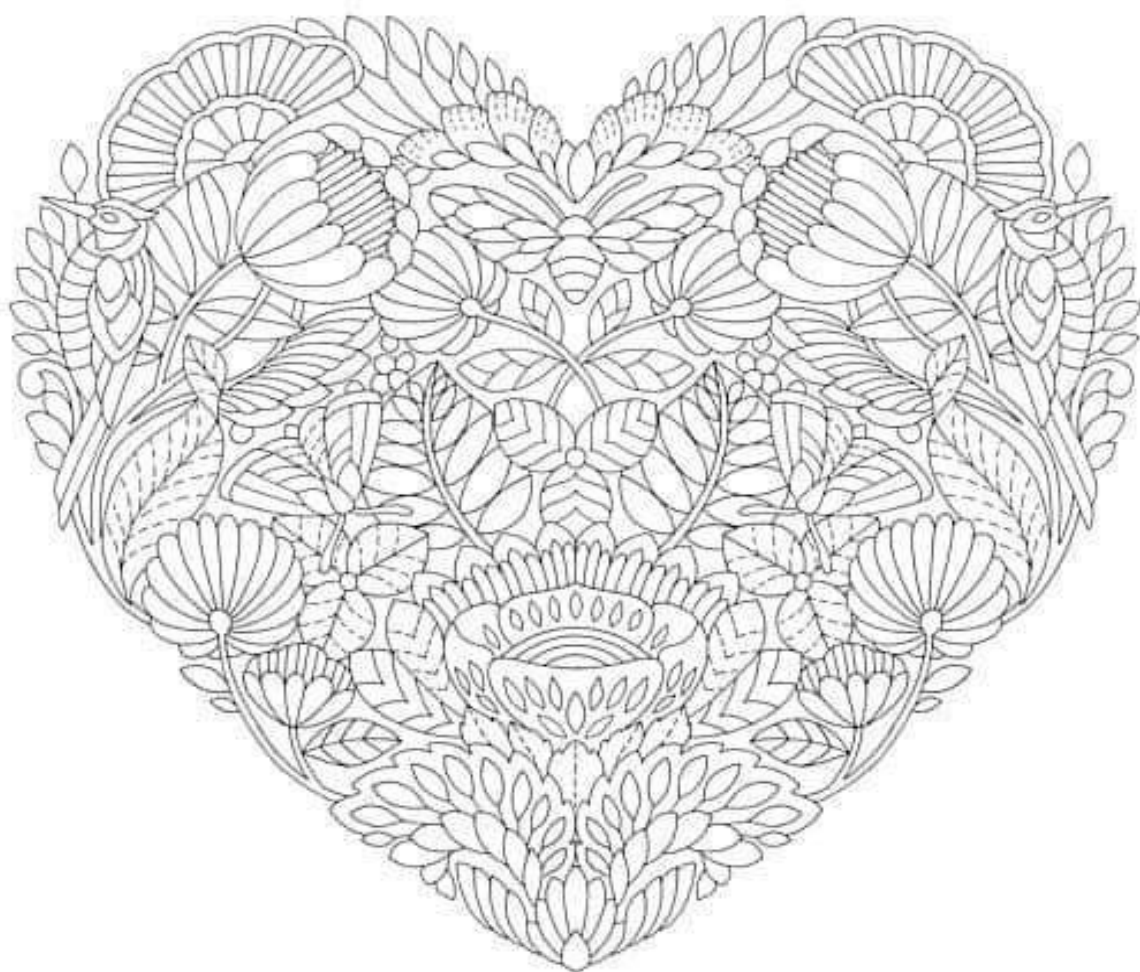

Pointing to the high proportion of laments in the Book of Psalms, Mr Redman spoke of the importance of songs that address pain. "There is no-one who escapes pain, heartache, confusion, stress. It's not just relevant to people in church. If you sing honest songs that are raw and real, they will be relevant to people's lives outside the churchwhen you start to sing about troubles, you very quickly start to journey into the compassionate, kind, generous, caring heart of God. It is the songs that He has written on these themes, that have generated "the most beautiful stories."

Mr Redman's father took his own life when Matt was seven. Shortly afterwards, a group from a Vineyard church in the U.S visited his church St. Andrew's in Chorleywood and he was "fascinated" by the music they brought with them but also a sense that "people were really talking not just about God, but to God, and it felt active and real. I was seeing the people of God in the presence of God, pouring out praise to God"

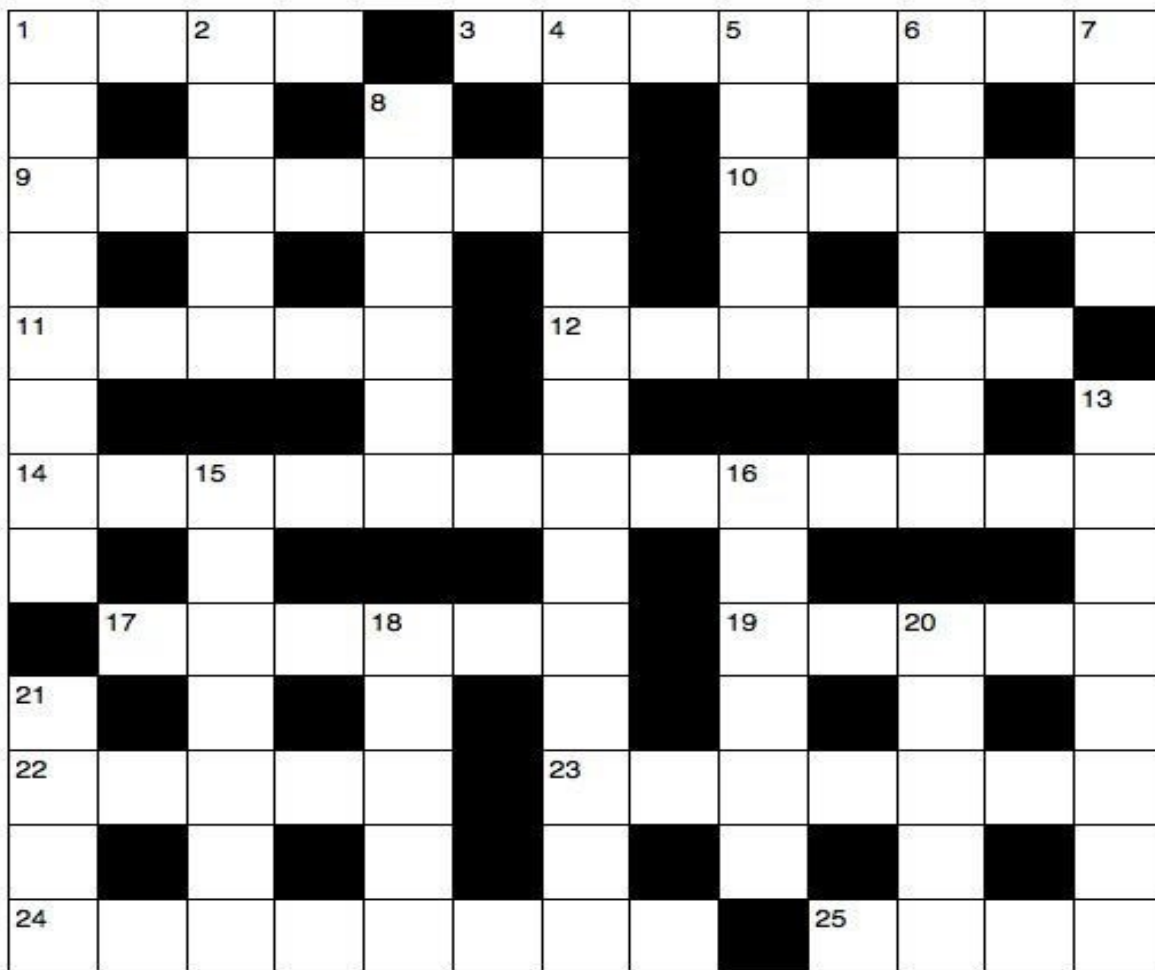

During quite a "turbulent childhood," learning to sing the songs and play them on the guitar "kept me stable" he said. Matt began writing songs as a way of praying, and discovered that "if you get it right you can write in such a way that people attach their stories, to the song, there is no formula to repeat, anything that is meaningful, spiritual, powerful, that is not me, that is the hand of God.

Like many of you I am so missing worshipping together. There are some who prefer traditional hymns played on our church organ, others the contemporary sound of our worship band, but then there's those who happily slot into either because they just love musical worship in all its varied forms. Whatever your preference wont it just be great to be back together again?

I have been really enjoying the Facebook posts that have included our worship band leader, Paul, recording live songs. They have been varied in both setting and style but they have definitely been very welcome during this lockdown. I know there are endless recordings out there to sing along with, but there's something especially beautiful about a song sung in our own church building by our own worship leader.

There's a Matt Redman song "When the music fades" that reminds us that all God requires is our hearts. I hope that yours is still burning for the Lord and that when we can join together your voice will be louder than ever. Whatever your musical talent (and mine is sadly lacking) as I was once told God loves his nightingales with their delightful notes as much as his raucous crows!! One thing for sure, between us we can create a chorus fit for our amazing God.

Cheryl

Our Church services are a little different but on our Facebook page we are sharing daily morning prayer live and a reflection from the readers and myself. On Saturday we upload news, prayer and other notes of interest. Sunday Paul brown and a reader will share a sermon and a song.

Our webpage will also show the daily reflections and sermons that take place during the week as well this magazine being available online as well.

At time of print we still are unsure of when our churches will reopen again and how this will be shaped in coming months but we keep you updated via the webpage and facebook as we find out from the Church of England and the Government.

Reflection taking from our Facebook page on Tuesday 5th May 2020

by Lisa Ollerenshaw.

I was reading one of my favourite books the other day 'What Ho. Jeeves' by PG Wodehouse. While pulling Bertie Wooster out of the soup as usual, Jeeves remarked that his family always became closer and more loving towards each other whenever Aunt Annie came to stay - because Aunt Annie was so horrible! It meant the rest of the family drew together, became more loving and all the petty squabbles were swiftly forgotten.

Well, the history writers of tomorrow will record that 2020 was the year that Auntie Covid came to stay and although she is way more horrible even than Jeeves' Aunt Annie, and has definitely out-stayed her welcome, it's undeniable that the visit has meant we are viewing each other in a different way, and mostly for the better.

People have drawn closer together (ironically, even while in isolation). More thought is given to the needs of others, and not just family either. People are looking out for neighbours, waving at strangers, clapping for people they've never met.

One of the great gifts and markers of the Holy Spirit is kindness, something up until now I've always thought of as a jewel, rare and precious. I don't want to minimize the darkness, fear and grief of this time, but I do want to look back and see the shining light of kindness as one of the great positives.

This whole situation shows we can be unselfish, thoughtful for others, kinder to our environment, it's really such a shame that it's taken a pandemic for all of these things to begin to happen. Well when Auntie Covid finally packs her bags and goes home, I hope kindness stays a while (a very long while), and while we're at it, let's welcome all the other fruit of the Holy Spirit: love, joy, peace, patience, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control (Galatians, chapter 5, verse 22)

In his Galatians letter St Paul was telling the first century church that they needed to live the spirit for this wonderful fruit to blossom and grow, and that meant obeying Jesus' Golden Rule: 'Love your neighbour as yourself'

Church Reordering: The Next Instalment!

(Pam Hadfield)

Yes it's me again and yes I'm still talking about reordering.

Our Rejuvenation Project Update

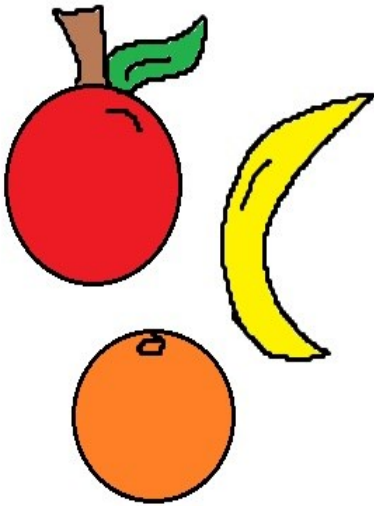

On 4 April, our Faculty application for the planned building reordering of St Mary's Church was submitted to the DAC with a date of 27 April set for our application to be reviewed by the full Committee. Following submission I received, via the DAC, a number of preliminary questions, which is a normal part of the Faculty process. These questions were in the main asking for clarification of technical aspects. I also received comments and queries from the Victorian Society regarding our Statement of Significance focussing on obtaining more in depth technical, historical, and architectural data. I forwarded these initial questions to Mayway including the request by the Victorian Society. Mayway is currently dealing with these and has commissioned a full Historical Report to be produced for consideration by the DAC. Mayway's technical expert visited the Church on 24 April to take a set of specific photographs, both inside and outside the building to support the written report.

All did seem to be on track but like all our lives, Covid-19 has had an impact and on 10 April I received an email from the DAC Secretary stating that the DAC office is now closed until the lockdown regulations have been eased. Therefore there will be no DAC meeting on 27 April or for the foreseeable future and currently our Faculty application is on hold. However the work to complete all the questions and queries raised together with the production of the Historical Report still goes on, so that when we have the 'green light' we can proceed immediately.

Please therefore could I ask for your continued prayers as we journey together to build a beacon for Jesus in Alvaston through our whole Church rejuvenation project.

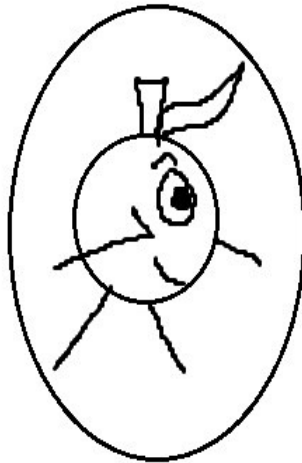

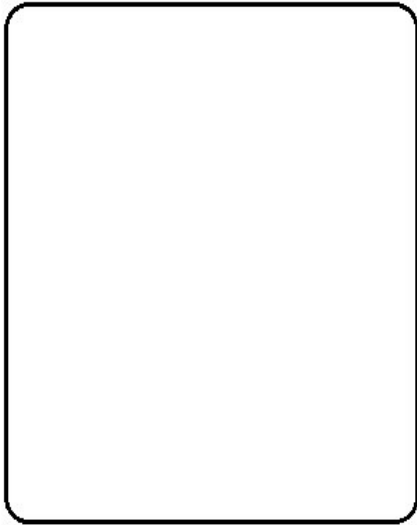

Pam

Global Vision @ Cliff College Festival 2020

‘Global Vision’ is our theme for 2020. As a college we are investing in our relationships across the Globe. We are working with partners in mission and theological training in every corner of the world and Festival 2020 offers us an amazing opportunity to reflect together and learn from some of those friends who will be joining us. We are inviting speakers and preachers from different parts of the world and we hope they will encourage and enable us to understand and learn from their context. We will hear from places experiencing incredible revival and fast church growth and from those places where persecution is a daily reality.

Due to the current conditions Cliff Festival has been cancelled but they are offering you the chance of attending from your very own home.

Love never fails

Even in the darkest moments, love gives hope.

Love compels us to fight against coronavirus alongside our sisters and brothers living in poverty.

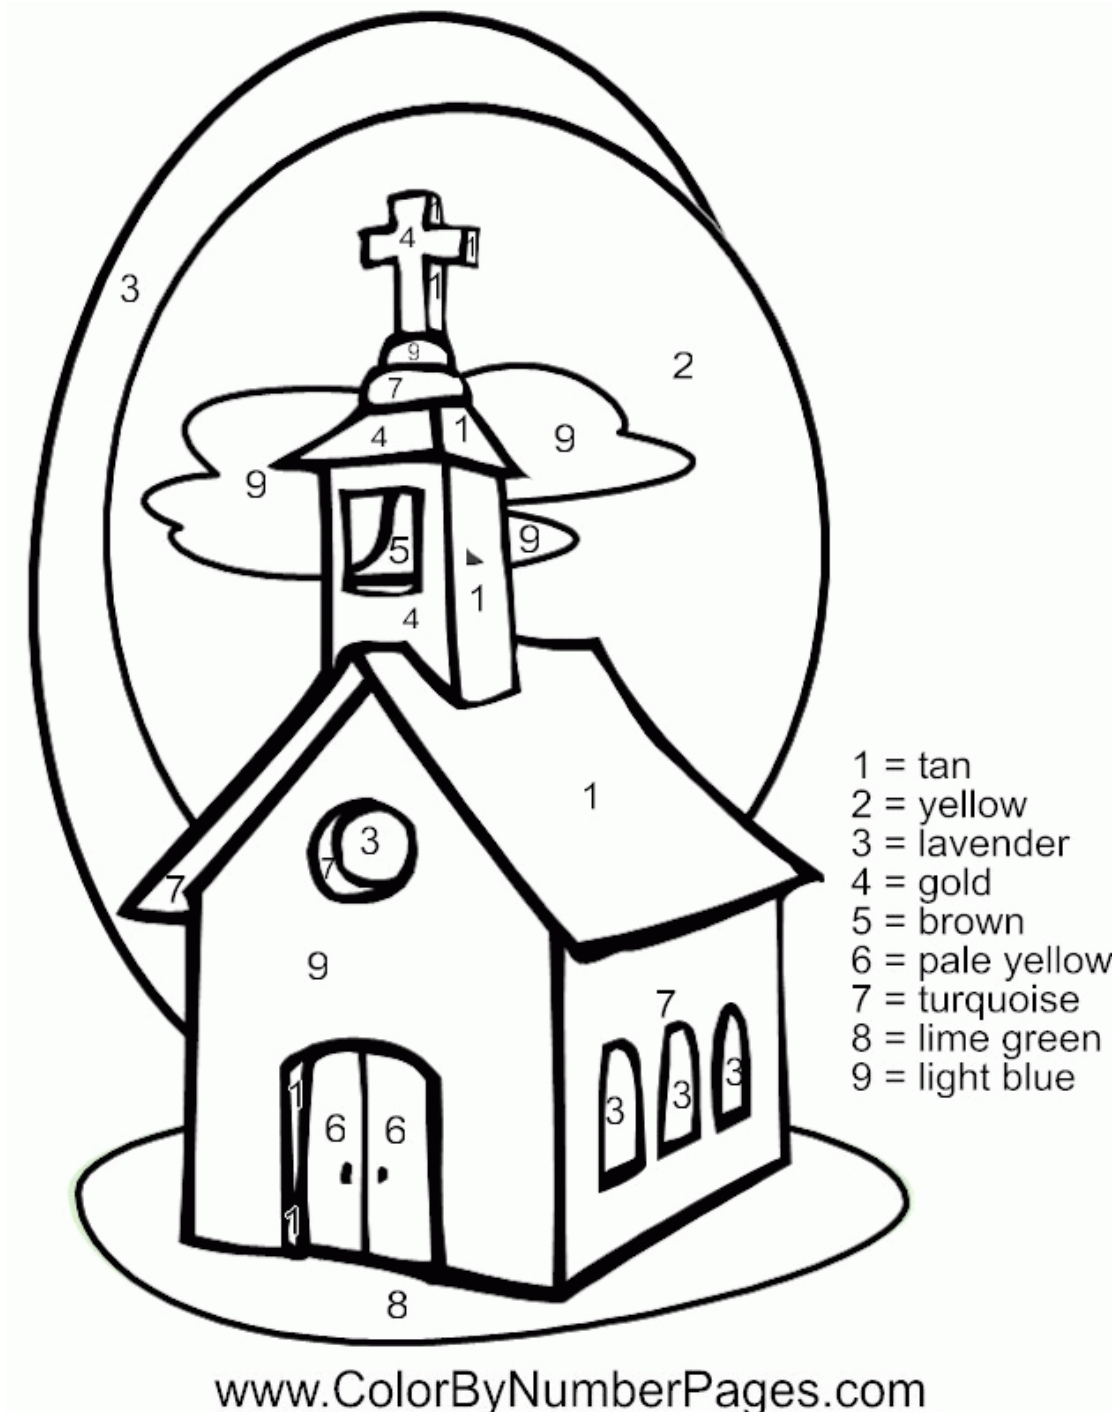

Love compels us to stand together in prayer with our neighbours near and far.

Love compels us to give and act as one.

Now, it is clear that our futures are bound together more tightly than ever before.

As we pray in our individual homes – around the nation and around the world – we are united as one family.

So, let us pause and find a moment of peace, as we lift up our hearts together in prayer.

Easter

This years Easter Experience was due to take place during Wed 25th and Friday 27th March in which we hoped to see our local schools bring in there year 5 children to experience the stations of Easter. Sadly due to the current Pandemic we had to cancel this years experience and also Pentecost will have to be cancelled for the year 6 children. We will look at rectifying this hopefully during Easter 2021.

We had a very different kind of Easter this year due to the church being closed and Lockdown being in place but the online reflections that the Readers and myself along with Paul Brown put together was special in its own right.

Myself and Molly got up at 5am and made a hot drink and went out into the back garden to watch Bishop Libby give her Sunrise Eucharist service and with a candle lit watched the Sunrise and listened to the birds, it was lovely. Was lovely to share a few hello's on the facebook page of other like minded people who joined in with me but from there own homes..

Church Giving

Not being able to worship together is horrible but it is also having an adverse effect on our finances. The majority of our giving is still done by direct envelope or cash in the offertory plate and of course we have not had any now for 5 weeks.

Of course it will be a bumper week when you are finally able to bring all those envelopes etc back to church, but that doesn't help paying our ongoing commitments (utilities, insurance, common fund etc). I have actually had to take the step of suspending our standing order to the diocese for now to keep us in the black at the bank and will only pay it when funds allow!

I am therefore asking anyone who is able, to consider making a direct payment to the church bank account. If you have online banking it is really simple (however I do not want anyone making special journeys to banks to do this). All you need is our sort code and account number which I will supply via email and you can resume your normal giving pattern once this is all over if you prefer.

If you can help then email me : paulbaxter59@hotmail.com or telephone 07715271687

Thank you. Cheryl

Annual Perochial Church Meeting 2020

I have left this article in from last magazine as its still relevant, due to the current pandemic we have postponed the APCM till a later date (October possibly) and I will still be your warden till Jan 31st, again dependent on any updates the diocese send out.

It's that time of year again where we look back over 2019 and reflect on the many things we have achieved over the year. Its also a time where we elect new PCC members and Church wardens.

The people who are elected to these positions are people like you. They are part of our Church congregation, they may sit next to you on a Sunday or hand you your books at the door before a 9.45 service, they are also registered on the Church Electoral role.

This year is slightly different to the last few years as we are currently in interregnum which most of you know means we are without a vicar. Its also a time of change regarding the building as we look at putting in a new kitchen and toilet and 3 additional rooms at the back of the church.

Its also the year where maybe you take a leap of faith and decide that you may want to join the PCC and be apart of the future year and support others on the committee with the hard decisions they have to make. Cheryl our Treasurer is looking for someone to shadow her during the coming months with the role of Treasurer with the intention of them taking on the role as she looks at moving onto different projects in the future.

Please think long and hard about moving Boulton St Marys into the future and how you may want to do this, also may I ask that you all attend the APCM on the 29th March and make your VOTE count towards the future Churchwarden/s; the warden is someone who looks after the church building but also supports you the congregation, someone who shares the same vision as the PCC and the congregation. As current Churchwarden I am very happy doing this position and am willing to continue in this role maybe with a co-worker. I am currently praying to Our Father to guide me on my future path and where He maybe taking me. In my head this is to support you through the Interegnum and fulfil many of the projects that I have started or have in the pipe line, but I also know that if the position goes to vote I am in your hands.
